Altrusa Foundation, working together with Amity Foundation in China, is providing a Hugging Granny at Leping SWI.

There was been some renovation to the Children's Building (see below), and 14 children live there together now. There are also three orphans at the "Hope Family." Those orphans who are able go to nearby schools, and those who can't are guided in rehabilitation and cognitive development by the staff.

Hugging Granny

Grandma Xu Haiqin has worked at the SWI since April of 2007. She knows the children well and is instrumental in the routine of their days. She gives them affection, plays with them, and runs activities to enrich their lives. When we visited, she was working with P.T., whose legs are so weak she cannot walk alone. Each day Xu helps her practice walking to music. Every time Ping Ting hears the music she likes, she claps happily. Although she can not walk yet, she smiles more than before and has become more active. Her bond with Xu is growing steadily and she is responding to this consistent source of affection.
