Amity/Altrusa Children: with the coming winter foster families have been careful to dress their children in warm coats, an extra comforter, and feed them plenty of hot food so as to keep the children in good health and high spirits, thus fending of the cold and flu. The orphanage staff have been making regular visits, and with the coming Winter Festival they have been presenting the children with new clothes.

5. Foster Children

- a. An individual report and photo for each child will be sent to their sponsor but here are some photos of our sponsored foster children. They are each doing well with their foster families. These foster care placements are making a big difference in the lives of these children by providing individual care and attention. Below are some photos of them.
